Foreword

The class of 1940 publishes this edition of the Pines in the sincere hope that in the years to come it may recall to us memories of the happiest years we shall ever know.

Cora M. Wilsey

In grateful appreciation for her services to Traverse City High School and for her un-failing interest in the welfare of her students during the past seventeen years, the 1940 Pines is sincerely dedicated to Miss Cora M. Wilsey, instructor in history, government, and economics.

Dedication

ANNUAL

Helen Goodrich, Editor-in-Chief, planned and organized the entire annual. It was her duty to supervise each division and see that the work was done correctly.

Betty Kistler and Bill Milliken aided the editor in collecting material, writing copy, running all kinds of errands and assisting with the work of each division.

Bill Newton had charge of one of the most important divisions in the annual. His work covered every phase of photography. He also had charge of the music division.

We owe our attractive cover design to David Stiffler who originated and drafted the pattern himself. The modernistic designing in the interior of the annual was artfully done by Rosemary Rennie.

Mary Bauer, Betty Hall, Betty Potrafke, John Titus, and Don Pratt took an active part in the production of the annual. Their chief duty was to write the copy for the organization division.

Although the president usually serves only as a financial adviser to the annual board, George Panter rendered much valuable service to the photographic department, the editorial department, and the art department.

The most difficult job of covering the entire sports program of our school was ably taken care of by Bill Lichty and Bruce Wangen. These two editors planned their entire division, wrote all the sports copy, and arranged for all of their photography.

C L A S S E D I T O R S

The senior pictures, quotations, and extra-curricular activities of each senior were arranged by Vera Fouch and Jeanne MacIntosh.

A C T I V I T Y E D I T O R

Because of the extensive club program in the school this year, the activity division was one of the most difficult parts of the annual. Dorothy Oakes, Editor of the organization department handled this large job very efficiently.

L I T E R A R Y E D I T O R

This department was capably filled by Pauline Graphos and Phyllis Bauer. These girls wrote the copy for the administration division and assisted in writing the copy for the music department.

In every realm of high school life the Board of Education of the Traverse City Schools plays a fundamental role. Their one objective is to see that the students of Traverse City are given all the possible advantages of a modern, progressive education.

Hiring teachers, supervising the activities of the superintendent of schools and principals, budgeting school finances for the year, and deciding other important issues which invariably arise, are only a few of the assignments of the board of Education. During the past year the Board has inaugurated a number of reforms in the curriculum of the school which have furthered immeasurably their ideal of a better balanced, all round liberal education. It is the duty of the superintendent, Mr. Loomis, to acquaint the board with the needs of the school system.

Realizing that the fine school buses which transport rural students to and from school were purchased by the Board of Education, that it is this board which purchased the sound motion picture machine and maintains its equipment, that band uniforms, and athletic equipment are all provided for through the Board of Education, that the speech and debate societies have been set on their feet by the help of the board, that transportation expenses for band, orchestra, debate and sports all come from the school board, that the public address system was financed by the board, and that it is this group of men who give Traverse City youth a chance to study, grow, and appreciate life, we, the students of Traverse City High School give a hearty, sincere, "thank you" to you, the Board of Education.

Members of the Board of Education are as follows:

FRANK ASHTON, President	GLEN LOOMIS, Superintendent
COLON WARFS	JULIUS HANSLOVSKY
WILLIAM NEWTON	ARNELL ENGSTROM
INIZ WAHLGREN, Clerk	HAZEL BIRD

Superintendent Loomis

GLENN E. LOOMIS — A. B., M. S., M. A.

Born in Hastings, Michigan, Mr. Loomis was graduated from Hastings High School in 1912. Following his graduation, he entered Olivet College from which he received an A. B. degree in 1916. In 1926, Mr. Loomis received an M. S. degree from Olivet and in 1930 he graduated from the University of Michigan with an M. A. degree.

Mr. Loomis was formerly coach and principal of Charlevoix High School. Following this, he accepted the office as principal of Big Rapids High School, a position which he held for five years. Later he was offered the superintendency at Big Rapids which he also fulfilled for a period of five years.

Besides his extensive career as an educator, Mr. Loomis is intensely interested in sports, having acted as coach and athletic official for a number of years. He is also very active as a member on several state boards and commissions.

In 1938, Mr. Loomis came to Traverse City where he has been superintendent of public schools for the past two years.

TO YOU OF '40

Well here you are, one hundred and eighty-nine strong. Graduation! What does it mean? For some it means out of high school into life's school. For others it means a short recess before the beginning of college work. For all it means a pause for a look toward the future. Stretched out before you are many pathways. At the end of each, you vision success.

You have reached the first milestone along your way. You are to be congratulated. Your enthusiasm engendered by this commencement time may cause you to feel that your ultimate life's goal is assured. I hope that you will not think it untimely for me to warn you that you see only a very nebulous vision in the distance. Many lesser goals lie between. To make your vision a reality and not a mirage requires work, courage and loyalty.

You will not find a rose strewn pathway. Every guide post along your way will be labeled WORK. There are no short cuts. You will find that the true joys on earth are for those who work. Be a builder—a creator, not a destroyer.

Have courage. Listen to advice of others but have the courage of your own convictions. Your journey may take you over some bad roads. Sometimes you may meet with failure. Have the courage to profit by your mistakes. Success often comes from replanned and rebuilt failures.

Be loyal. Loyal to your country, to your fellow men and yourself. Ours is the greatest country in the world. Keep it so. Do not allow yourself to be misled by the smooth twisting tongues of propagandists. America is still "the beautiful"—the land where youth has its greatest opportunity. We succeed only as our fellow man succeeds. Lord Byron said, "Happiness was born a twin." Cooperate in building your community. A successful community means successful individuals. Above all be loyal to yourselves. "To thine own self be true and it follows as the night unto the day that thou canst not be false to any man."

Life, youth, opportunity are yours. Success depends on how well you use them.

With best wishes to you all.

G. E. LOOMIS.

Black and Gold

1 9 3 9

This semester's staff consists of: Bill Lichty, Editor-in-Chief; Bob Smith, Asst. Editor; Dorothy Oakes, Advertising Manager; Vera Fouch, Advertising Solicitor; Jeanne MacIntosh, School Editor; Grace Gilbert, Social Editor; Bruce Wangen, Sports Editor; Bob Taylor, Asst. Sports Editor; J. Anne Roosa, Exchange Editor.

Many useful and interesting films were shown here. The first was the film "The Press Association Convention" held at the Stevens Hotel in Chicago on November 9, 1939. Eleven members attended this convention.

The second semester Black and Gold Staff, despite the fact that they lost several old experienced members and added some new inexperienced members, have fared excellently. Their chief accomplishments have been the Tournament Issue honoring our basketball winners and the Alumni Issue, both of which have been the first in the history of this paper.

Some members again took their leave and attended the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association Convention held at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor on May 2, 3, and 4. Proud are we, the members of this staff, to announce Bill Lichty occupied the editor-in-chief's post for the past year. He has been a first class editor and has left a fine record for the staff to shoot at.

Bruce Wangen was elevated to the assistant editor's position at the close of the first semester and aided Bill in putting out the paper throughout the rest of the year.

This semester's staff under the capable direction of Mrs. Moyer has put out more papers and better papers than ever. In doing this, they have aided in putting out a 10 page edition.

One of their outstanding accomplishments was promoting the idea of the ad bar and aiding in putting it into effect.

that our advisor, Mrs. Moyer, is president of M. I. P. A.

Alumni Issue BLACK & GOLD

One of the most notable accomplishments of this year's Black and Gold staff was the publication of the Alumni Issue, first of its kind ever to come from a high school press. A large part of the credit should go to the staff members for their unceasing efforts in compiling and writing the material which went into the 12-page edition.

Junior High Student Council

The Junior High Student Council has been very active with its various clean up campaigns, traffic regulations in the halls, hot dog sales, home-run bundy, sales, etc. The proceeds from the sales were used in projects for the interest of the school and as a gift to the Senior High Council scholarship fund. The student court was organized and worked very well. The officers of the council were:

President	- - - - -	David Murray
Secretary	- - - - -	Pat Merrill
Treasurer	- - - - -	Dorothy Lee Miller
Black and Gold Reporter	- - - - -	Norman Wangen
Sponsor	- - - - -	Miss Raymont

Junior High Black and Gold

The Junior High Black and Gold has been very busy this year contributing a full page of junior high news to every paper. It is sponsored by Mrs. Kiefer.

MEMBERS: Harriet Arnold, Dick Bauman, Mary Jo Bennett, Lea Culman, Patricia Elliott, Beverly Ghastin, Glenna Gore, Wilma Helferich, Patty Kiefer, David Murray, Bob Nicholson, Barbara Wade, Dorothy Wilhelm, Gloria Wilhelm, Winona Zang

Public Speaking Department

Luella Lewis

David Bosse

Dollena Herren

Under the capable direction of Mr. Chas. Crawford, the speech department produced another successful year. Although the debating teams were largely responsible for this year's success, mention should also be made of the fine work done in the declamation, oratorical, and extemporaneous fields. Luella Lewi declamation; Dollena Herren, oration; and David Bosse, extemporaneous, came through a difficult field of keen, local competition to capture winning honors. These students represented Traverse City in the sub-district contest.

Debate Club

A group of well organized orators have had a highly successful year under the leadership of Mr. Crawford. They participated in seven debates, winning five and losing two. They were eliminated in the third round of the state debates at which time there were only 16 schools left. They traveled to Ann Arbor, Big Rapids, Cheboygan, Petoskey, Bear Lake, Mt. Pleasant. They were organized with Leslie McCain as President, Barbara Herbert, secretary; Robert Taylor, treasurer, and Betty Lee Parsons, journalist. They met every day in room 222. Leslie McCain, Barbara Herbert, Bill Newton, Helen Sleder, Eugene Baker, Yvonne Stormer made up the negative team and Robert Taylor, Carl Hulsman, Walter Johnson, Betty Lee Parsons, Joseph Bachorik, Dale Slocum made up the affirmative team.

Governor Milliken

Vice-Governor Lichty

Secretary LaFranier

The Student Council is a representative group of students who assemble each Monday, 7th hour, to legislate student laws and discuss school problems. The council is guided by Governor William Milliken, Vice-Governor William Lichty, Secretary Louis LaFranier, and Treasurer Don Sanford. During the school year Governor Milliken made several appointments. First, Bill Newton was appointed Commissioner of Police and Safety, Charles Brown became the fire-marshall, Les McCain was named as the prosecutor, Tom Lewis was party supervisor, Don Sanford served as Commissioner of Buildings and Ground, and Helen Goodrich was appointed as the Chief-Justice of the student court.

The council was active in promoting school parties, sponsoring effective clean-up campaigns, and making laws for student control. One of the largest feats of the council was the $50.00 scholarship fund. This scholarship was raised by the council and given to some deserving senior for the furtherance of his education. In addition, the Student Council passed and enforced traffic rules, eliminated all student cars from either Seventh or Eighth streets during school hours, and revised and printed the school constitution. At the close of the year, the council had begun the big task of paving Pine Street between Seventh and Eighth streets.

The following students served on the council: Bill Milliken, Rosemary Rennie, Betty Law, Vera Fouch, Bill Newton, Francis Thayer, Jo Anne Hardy, Patricia Van Lpps, Mary Bauer, Phyllis Bauer, Helen Goodrich, Betty Potrafke, Charles Brown, Bill Lichty, Harry Lichty, Leslie McCain, Don Sanford, Dorr Mead, Fred Connine, Dick Loomis, Eugene Francisco, Don McCall, George Umlor, Bob Roxburg, Jane Anne Zimmerman, Bob Pheatt, Bob Cole, Elma Routsong, Richard Neuman, Tom Lewis, Louis La Franier.

The court worked in conjunction with the council. The eight associate justices, appointed by Governor Milliken, were: Edgar Zobel, Bob Bergstrom, Mary Soderberg, Eugene Baker, Axel Lardie, Mary Bauer, Pat Kephart, and David Stiffler. Barbara Herbert was chosen by student vote to act as clerk of the court and Les McCain served as prosecutor through appointment by the governor. The court worked steadily all year to correct tardiness, skipping, and disorderly behavior among the student body. They were responsible for the organization of a special seventh hour study hall. This study period was controlled by the court members and many times a student would be sentenced to serve a week or more in this severe study room, as punishment for a misdemeanor.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is an institution of American high school youth who pledge themselves to maintain the highest standards of character, leadership, scholarship, and service. Each spring this society admits both seniors and juniors into its ranks.

In 1940, nineteen seniors and nine juniors were initiated into the society. The initiation program was prepared and presented by the eleven members who had been elected as juniors in 1939. President Bill Milliken opened the program by welcoming the new members into the society, and vice president Bill Lichty introduced the speakers of the program. Eileen Groesser discussed scholarship, Helen Goodrich mentioned the importance of service, Phyllis Bauer talked about leadership, and Bill Newton concluded the speeches with a few words about character. Other members taking part in the program were Rosemary

Rennie, Pat Kephart, David Stiffler, Jack Heimforth, and secretary Vera Fouch.

The senior members who were elected at this time were: Barbara Herbert, Virginia Thorpe, Mary Emerson, Betty Kistler, Robert Bergstrom, Walter Johnson, Anna Tafelsky, Grace Gilbert, Jack Hensel, Virginia Wahl, Bruce Wangen, Mary Blanchard, George Panter, Esther Brown, Margaret Ruegsegger, Pauline Graphos, Helen Seabrook, Victoria Podoba, and Patricia Heiges.

Juniors: Helen Sleder, Betty Lee Parsons, John Gamache, Mary Bauer, Harry Litchy, Dollena Herren, Betty Hall, Ted Oliver, Jean Lautner.

The new members were guests of honor at the annual National Honor Society banquet held May 15 in the high school cafeteria.

Traverse City High School Band

The Band this year is to be complimented for the fact that they have had one of the most successful years in their history. The success of the band this year is to be attributed to Mr. Deike, their new director. With four years experience in the University of Michigan Band and Orchestra, his new ideas have been responsible for building up of the musical appreciation of the school.

During the football season the band furnished its between-the-halves entertainment with many novel ideas, and proved to be one of the best marching bands that the school has ever had. The band made two trips, one to Cadillac and the other to Manistee.

At our basketball games the band provided that essential spirit with their martial music. The only trips that the band made to basketball games was to the Tournament at Petoskey.

The band has appeared twice this year for a concert, once for the combined musical program on December 10 and for the Musical Varieties that proved to be such a hit with its professional-like touch.

The climax of the year came when the band went to Ann Arbor for the State Music Contest returning with an "Excellent" rating.

The officers and members of the band are as follows:

Traverse City High School Orchestra

The orchestra this year was comprised only of string instruments. This was a novel idea for high school orchestras but they received a fine rating at the state contest in Ann Arbor, although they were unclassified. With instruments added from the band, they accompanied the glee clubs in a performance of Romany Life on the Musical Variety program. The string ensemble traveled to Gaylord in the spring for a music festival and everyone derived a great deal. The orchestra has also helped with several assemblies, programs, etc., throughout the year.

The Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club has participated in all the concerts given by the music department this year. Under Mr. Wing's direction, they improved steadily and Mr. Deike has helped them maintain the same standards since Mr. Wing left to teach in Grand Rapids. Most of the girls took part in the mixed chorus group which went to their first music festival in Grand Rapids. They received a "good" rating.

Boys' Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club has again chalked up another successful year of musical accomplishments. Despite the fact that most of the boys were new, they have come through the year with flying colors.

Their first public appearance was at the Grange Convention where they entertained the Grangers with their songs. The next appearance was in the combined musical program on December 10, and finally in the Musical Varieties program. Later in the year some of the boys went to Grand Rapids with the mixed chorus to participate in The State Vocal Festival. The boys were very regretful when Mr. Wing, their director, went to the Grand Rapids Davis Vocational Technical High School and Junior College, but Mr. Deike assumed his role very well.

The members of the Boys' Glee Club are as follows:

George Bosard	Charles Fisher	Ralph Vanderley
Ernest Bosse	Guy Fowler	Ralph Viskochil
Richard Clark	John Gamache	Lewis Walters
Walter Cole	Tom Gerst	Norman Wangen
Donald Curtiss	Gerald Gilbert	Richard Wellman
David DeCamp	Donald Hennrich	Anthony Wilhelm
Dale Doerr	Wilbert Howell	Joe Kilpatrick

The Brass Ensemble

The Clarinet Quartet

The String Quartet

The Saxophone Quartet

The Trombone Quartet

The music department is constantly being called upon to furnish music for programs of all sorts. Naturally, the band, orchestra, or glee club, can not comply with these requests in many cases because of their size, so they are taken care of by the ensembles and soloists. These ensembles and soloists who carry the brunt of most the work during the year for the various programs are to be lauded for their efforts.

Perhaps one of the busiest of the ensembles has been the String Ensemble who had so many requests for performances, that they were unable to take care of them all. It was composed of Victoria Podoba, Phyllis Bauer, Grace Gilbert, and Verna Gilbert. They traveled to Ann Arbor in the Spring for the State Music Festival where they received an "excellent" rating.

The Brass Ensemble also has performed many times throughout the year for assemblies and the like. At the State Music Festival they received a "superior" rating and were recommended to the National Festival held in Battle Creek. The Brass Ensemble was composed of Bob Ransom, Harry Lichty, Julia Archison, Ed Irish, Bill Newton, and Mervin Salenski.

The Trombone Quartet, while not as busy as some, also received a "superior" rating at the Music Festival and were also recommended to the Nationals. It was composed of Mervin Salenski, Wey Wenzel, Lloyd Bovee, and Willard Berry.

The Saxophone Quartet composed of Bob Graham, Dorr Mead, George Peck, and Dick Greenley, were engaged several times during the year for the "Musical Varieties," for assemblies, and for other programs. They received an "Excellent" rating at the Music Festival.

The Clarinet Quartet also went to Ann Arbor where they received an "excellent" rating. While not as active as others, they also did their part in contributing the music of the year. It was composed of Bob Bergstrom, Van Hardy, LeRoy Ghering, and Sol Cavitch.

Next year Mr. Deike plans to have more ensembles than this year because he believes that the training received in ensemble work is invaluable so far as developing intonation in the band and orchestra.

Soloists

Harry Lichty

Shirley Tremaine

The Accompanists

Bob Dewar

Hobart Hultz

Some of the Soloists who made good showings this year at Ann Arbor were Shirley Tremaine, Violist, who received first division, Harry Lichty, trumpet, second division, Bob Dewar, drums, second division, Julia Atchison, horn, second division.

The soloists from Junior High who went to Ann Arbor were: Richard Greenley, Saxophone, first division, David Courson, trumpet, first division; Helen Hugart, flute, second division; and David Murray, bass, fourth division.

The accompanists who worked untiringly throughout the year working perhaps harder than the soloists themselves, were Mariam Davis and Louise Perry.

Hobart Hultz, a Post Graduate this year and one of the most outstanding musicians that the school has ever produced, not only rendered his services on numerous programs throughout the year, but was assistant director of the band. Hobart, who desires to become an instructor of music, has spent all the time he possibly could helping Mr. Deike, helping soloists, and doing whatever had to be done. He has recently been awarded for his efforts by a scholarship to Michigan State College where he plans to further his study of music.

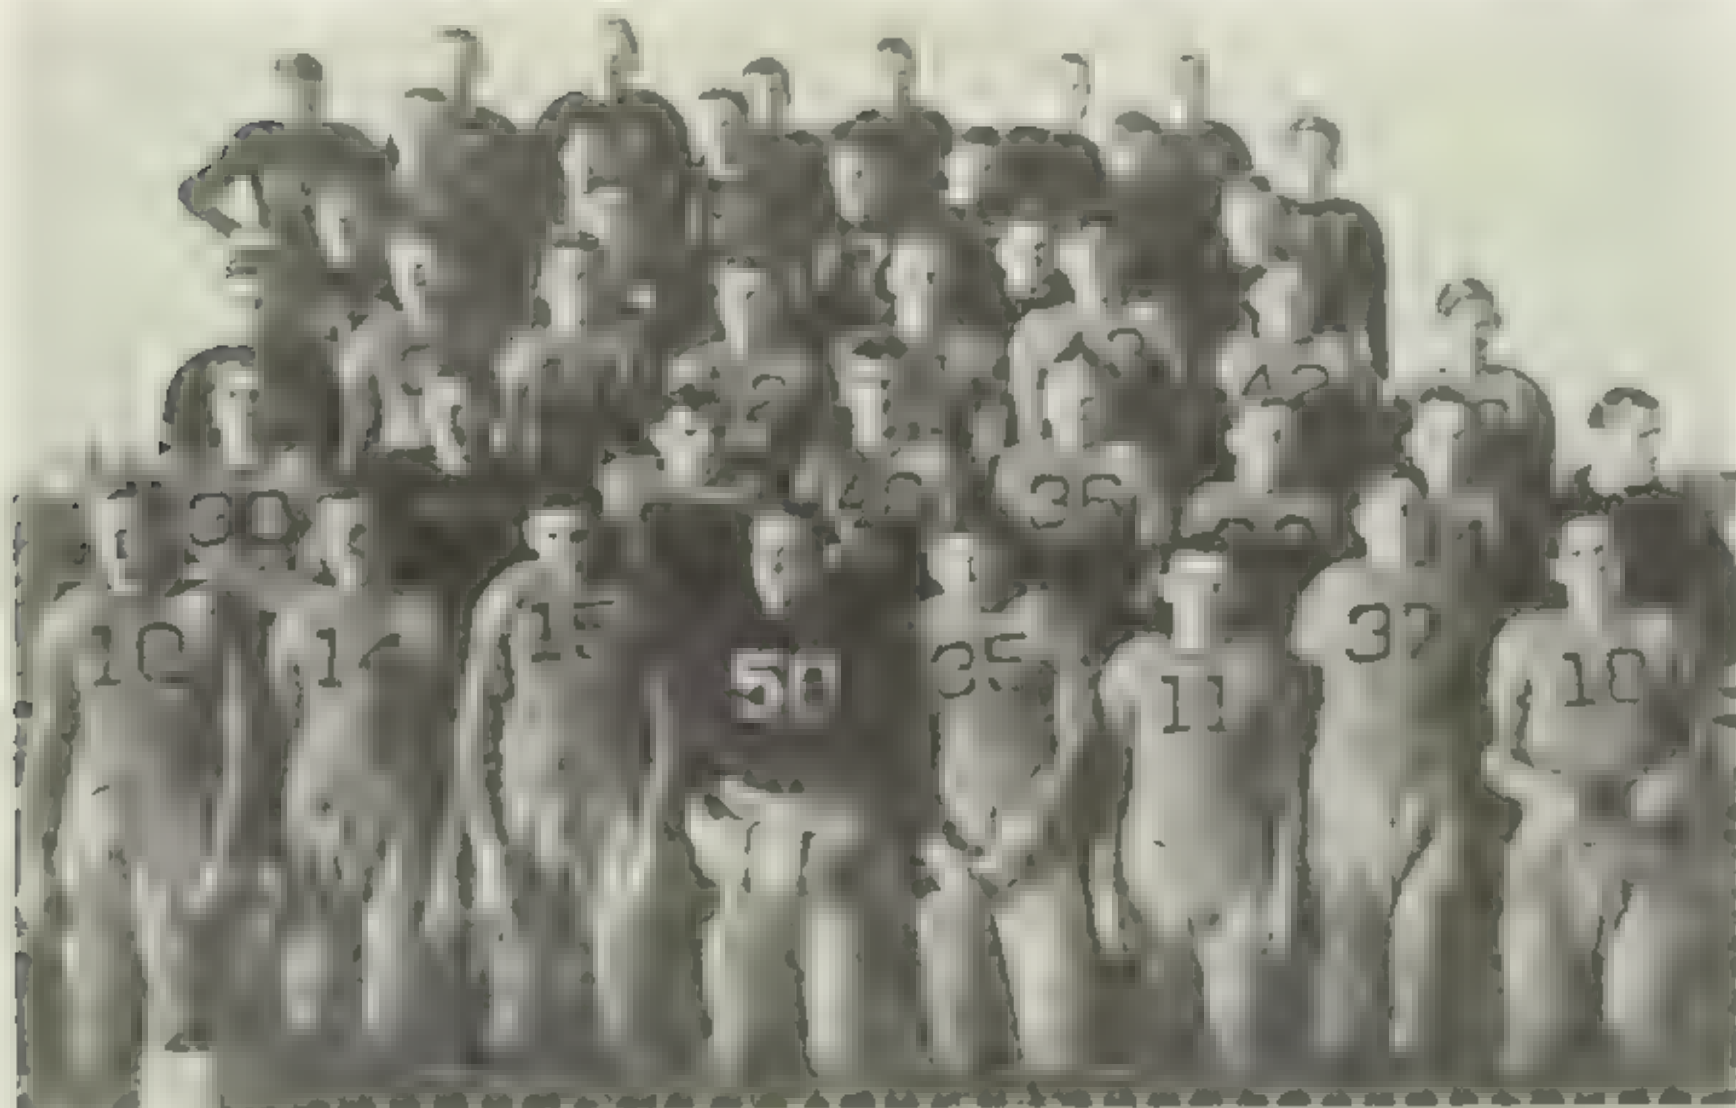

LEW HOLLIDAY

When Lew Holliday, dean of Northern Michigan's sports writers and managing editor of the Record-Eagle, passed away last winter, Traverse City mourned the loss of an outstanding citizen. Always helpful and understanding to everyone who met him, Mr. Holliday was the friend of all Traverse City, particularly high school students. He played a large part in improving high school sports in Traverse City and was continually striving to improve the Northern Michigan Class B Conference.

To the memory of this eminent man we dedicate the sports section of the 1940 "Pines."

The Trojans opened the 1939 gridiron campaign with an inexperienced squad, numbering only six lettermen, but rounded into a formidable eleven during the last half of the season to finish strong with a record of five wins and three reverses.

Grand Rapids Union invaded Thirlby Field on September 22 and atoned for last year's 7 to 6 defeat by handing the Trojans a 14 to 0 setback. Although the Orrmen were superior in the air they could not cope with the strong Red Hawk ground attack and were outplayed during most of the game.

On September 29, the Trojans took on a strong Gaylord eleven at Thirlby Field and barely nosed them out by a 7 to 0 count. Captain Bob Hemming, whose fine play was a deciding factor in the contest intercepted a Gaylord aerial and streaked thirty yards down the sidelines for the only score of the game.

The Black and Gold eleven entertained its first conference opponent on October 6 and walked off the field with a 14 to 6 victory over Cheboygan's Chiefs safely tucked away. George Umlor shone brightly for the Trojans throughout the contest and added to his laurels by blocking a kick which was good for a touchdown.

Alpena's Wildcats came to town on Friday, the 13th, and proceeded to completely outplay the Trojans to earn a 12 to 0 decision. Hard luck continued to dog the Orrmen, Captain Bob Hemming being seriously injured during the second half. Dick Nelson and Harry Bauman were a stone wall on defense.

The Trojans chalked up their second conference win when they invaded Cadillac on October 21, smothering the Vikings beneath a 32 to 6 score. Bill Newton took over the injured Gardner's center post and turned in a top-notch performance throughout the game.

A greatly improved Manistee eleven invaded the Trojan stronghold on October 28 and proceeded to absorb a 21 to 6 shellacking at the hands of the up and coming Cherry City gridgers. Jack Morgan and Paul Gardner divided most of the scoring between them.

The night of November 3 found Ludington's champion Orioles and the Black and Gold eleven battling it out under the arcs on the Thirlby greensward with the southerners finally emerging with a 7 to 0 victory in their possession despite the efforts of Mac Cox, stellar Trojan tackle who turned in a sparkling performance at his position. The defeat eliminated the Trojans from the title race.

Coach Orr's charges wound up the 1939 gridiron campaign by overwhelming a weak Petoskey eleven by a score of 34 to 0. The Trojans held the upper hand throughout the contest with Charley Frye, Warren Wyckoff, and Jack Merrill playing a bang up game in their last appearance under the Black and Gold colors.

The juniors and sophomores have not been mentioned but contributed much toward making the 1939 season a success. Coaches Orr and Menzel also deserve a bouquet for the fine work that they did in developing and molding a strong eleven.

Jack Woodrow was unanimously chosen to captain the 1940 Trojan eleven by this year's letter winners. Gridiron stalwarts who won places on different all-conference teams include Harry Bauman, Mac Cox, Paul Gardner, Bob Hemming, Jack Morgan, Dick Nelson, Jack Woodrow, and Dale Wares.

Successfully opening the 1939-'40 hardwood campaign, the veteran Trojan quintet came from behind to score a 30-24 upset over a highly rated Grand Rapids Central five with Jack Hensel sparking the locals attack by pouring 12 points through the mesh.

Four days later the Orrmen encountered the only breather on their 14 game schedule in the form of St. Francis and buried the Parochials beneath a 27-7 score.

Cheboygan's Chiefs were the next victims of the Black and Gold crew, succumbing 26-9 before the Trojan onslaught which was paced by lanky Jack Heimforth.

Ludington's champion Orioles invaded the Trojan stronghold the following week and emerged from a hectic contest with a 20-19 overtime victory in their possession.

Saginaw Eastern handed Traverse its second straight overtime setback by scoring five points in the extra three minutes to nose out the locals, 26-23. Mac Cox turned in a top notch performance at the center post.

Bouncing back after the two overtime defeats, the Black and Gold quintet tripped up Petoskey's strong Northmen by a score of 20-14 with Bill Milliken handling his guard position in excellent style.

The Trojans made it two straight with a clean cut 26-13 victory over Alpena with Bob Hemming's fine play a deciding factor in the contest.

Trojan title hopes faded as Ludington chalked up a decisive 26-14 win over the Orrmen on the winners' home floor in a game in which the Orioles were never headed.

Gloom continued to prevail over the Trojan camp as the Black and Gold crew dropped their third conference game to Manistee's surprising Chippewas by a score of 30-23. George Umlor turned in a sparkling exhibition of ball handling and shooting.

Cheboygan played host to Traverse the following week with the Trojans completely outplaying the northerners to earn a 30-10 victory. Jack Morgan's close guarding played a large part in the win.

Returning to their own encampment, the Black and Gold quintet took the measure of Petoskey for the second time with Charley (Bluebeard) Frye leading Coach Orr's charges to a 30-17 triumph.

An age old rivalry continued when Cadillac's Vikings met the Trojans four days later with the Cherry City five smothering the southerners' attack and unleashing a powerful one of their own to bury Coach Bryan's crew beneath a 42-13 score.

Visions of a runnerup spot in the Big Seven standings were blasted as Manistee again sunk the Black and Gold five, this time by a 17-13 count.

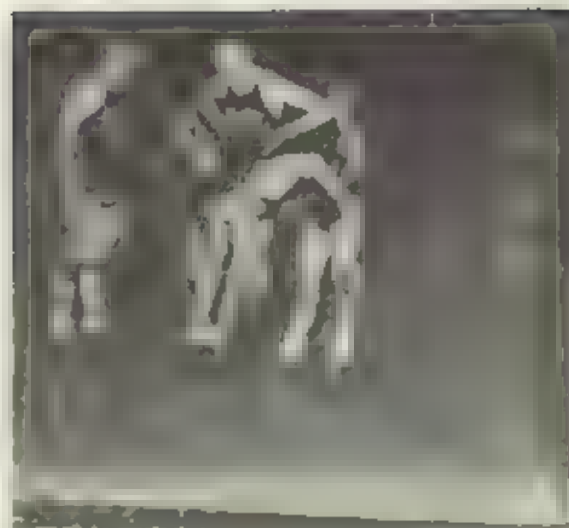

Laming Alpena's Wildcats proved to be an easy job for the Trojans who wound up the season with an impressive 40-22 victory over the crew from Thunder Bay, giving them fourth place in the Big Seven Conference.

In the class B regionals at Petoskey, the Trojans engaged their 1940 nemesis, Manistee, in the finals after having eliminated Petoskey and Rogers City by scores of 33-22 and 22-20, respectively, and scalped the Chippewas by the lopsided count of 37-12.

Advancing to the state tourney, the Black and Gold crew trounced Sandusky, 33-16, at Midland and followed it with a close 21-19 decision over a strong South Haven quintet at Lansing in the semi-finals.

Headlines screamed the news of a startling Trojan victory after the Black and Gold cagers annexed the Michigan class B crown by coming from behind to edge out a powerful Detroit St. Theresa quint, 26-23, in the Jenison field house at East Lansing.

A jubilant student body greeted the victorious players and coaches on the Monday after their return from East Lansing, with a general assembly preceeding a parade and snake dance throughout the city. Celebrating continued through the week with the victors attending numerous functions held in their honor.

INTRAMURALS

Mr. Menzel's boxing and wrestling group numbered over 100 boys. The Senior Rats (below) were runners-up in the senior high tourney. Back row (L to R): J. Stoll, V. Cavitch, A. Sanborn, R. Taylor. Front row: L. McCaw, T. Deering, R. Hooper.

T R A C K

This is a picture of the track squad for 1940. Several of the members were absent. Seniors are in the first row, juniors in the second, and sophomores in the third and fourth.

Paul Gardner, a fast dashman for two years, placed fifth in the state finals in Lansing in his junior year and was again the mainstay in the sprints this season, with Dale Wares and Walt Cole, a couple of fast and promising sophomores, as his running mates.

Mac Cox, who took a fifth in the state meet last year, returned to lead the field in the half-mile. He was seldom beaten in this territory, but was often pushed hard by Don Oseid, another sophomore, and Les McCain.

The quarter-mile found four fast men vying for, and dividing quite evenly, the honors in this gruelling race. Laverne Smith come up with many good 440's, with Vernon Hoxie, a hard working junior, always fighting for the lead.

Bill Lichty and Francis Rollo, a mid-semester senior, also turned in some nice performances during the year.

Assistant athletic director Irving Menzel took over the reins as head track and field mentor as the Trojans opened a belated cinder season. Persistent cold and constant rains hampered the squad of over fifty candidates during the first few weeks of training and resulted in the Black and Gold thinclads dropping the first dual meet to Cadillac on April twenty-sixth. Five relay teams made the jaunt to Mount Pleasant for the annual Central State Relays and made a creditable showing, although none of the foursomes were able to bring back a first place.

Showing continued improvement, the Trojans finished a strong second to class A Alpena in the annual Big Seven meet held on the local cinder paths May 11. The thinclads climaxed the season a week later by nosing out Cadillac in the regional held at Cadillac, scoring 50½ points to the Vikings 48. Mac Cox, Franny Rollo, Bill Milliken, Jack Bensley, Walt Cole, and Paul Gardner qualified for the state finals at Lansing and made the trip with Coach Menzel on May 25.

Bill Milliken, already sporting two stripes for his ability to clear the bar at high altitudes, continued his record in the high jump, with Dorr Mead, a junior, as a second Trojan contender.

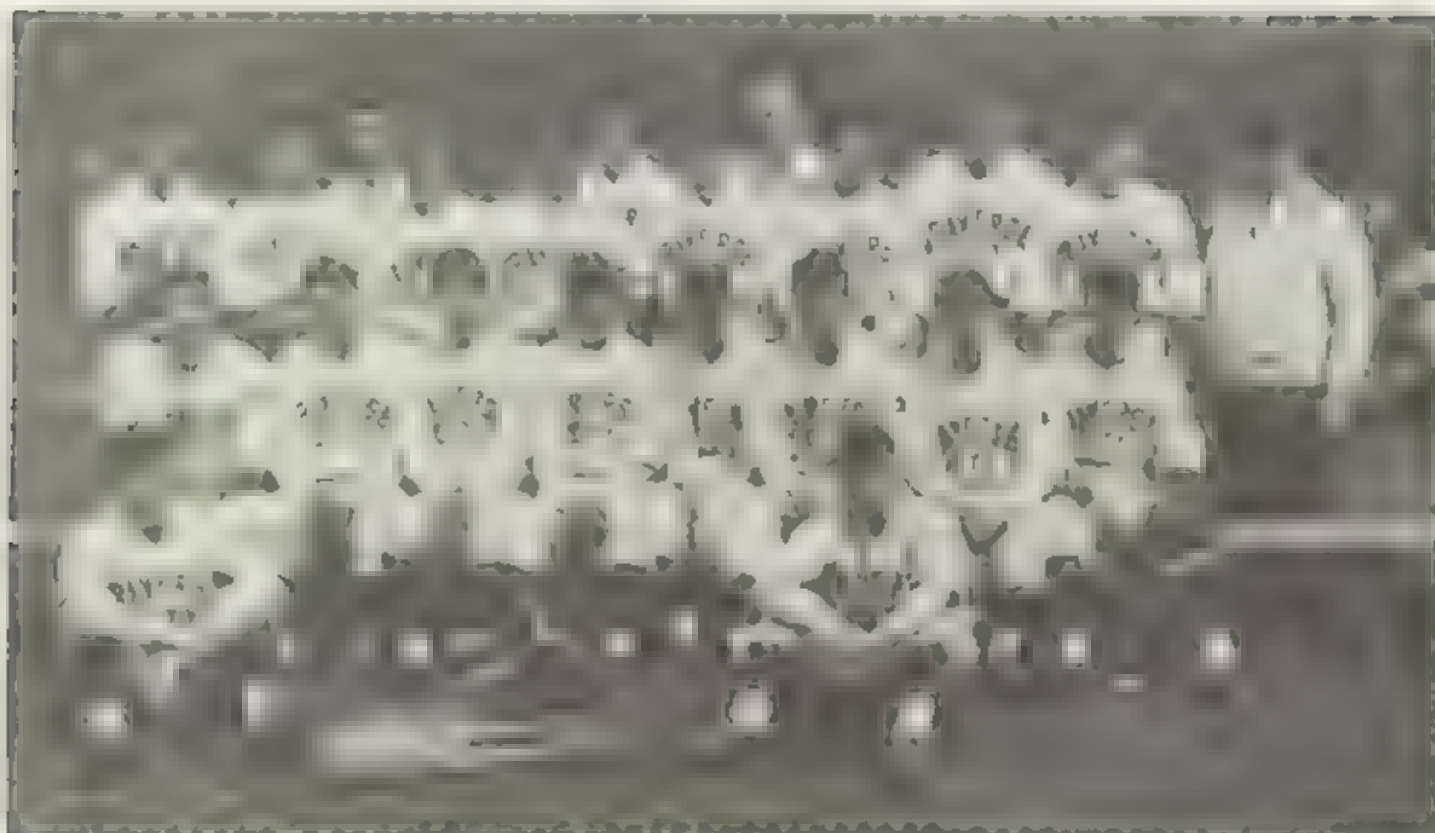

Louis Lafranier, Jack Merrill, and Jerry Mikesell were assigned to the hard task of filling the place of Curt Alward, star hurdler lost by graduation last year. Points were scored consistently by all three.

Jack Bensley was the school's only entry in the pole vault, and chalked up several places in the meets. Bill Baker and Karl Goss are two hurdlers of whom much will be expected next year.

LeRoy Gehring was forced to play second fiddle to a couple of hardy juniors, Jack Renehan and Glenn Soappman, in the mile, but ran a strong race in the long distance. All trackmen mentioned on these pages are seniors unless otherwise designated, and read in the pictures from left to right.

B A S E B A L L

Under the able leadership of Manager Reid Luse, the Trojan nine (pictured above) hung up an impressive record in the second year of high school diamond competition since baseball was brought back as a major sport.

The spring of 1940 ushered in baseball's second season in Traverse City High School, the sport having been revived last year. Reid Luse took over the manager's reins and started practice as soon as the first signs of spring appeared. Thirty-two boys answered Manager Luse's call for candidates with twenty-two being retained.

With twirler Jim Stoll sparking the locals, the 1940 campaign was successfully inaugurated when Benzonia was the victim of a no hit, no run game while the Trojans were gathering eight markers. The Black and Gold diamond crew continued to register wins throughout the season while dropping only a few contests to their opponents. In all, the Cherry City nine compiled an enviable record in baseball's sophomore year at the high school.

The squad was made up of veterans who returned from last year's strong nine and a number of promising recruits. Bob Hemming as first string receiver handled the pitchers well throughout the season besides contributing plenty of hitting punch. The Trojan infield of Jim Shonck, Charley Frye, Bill Howard, and Garth Dean at first, second, short, and third, respectively, functioned smoothly during the campaign and formed a formidable quartet for enemy pitchers. The outfield which was shifted around during most of the season gave the opposing pitchers headaches and was also strong defensively. Jim Stoll, Gene Stoll, and Darwin Hopkins formed an able hurling trio which handcuffed the enemy batters most of the time.

Tennis

With the first signs of spring, candidates for the 1940 Trojan tennis team dusted off their racquets and prepared to fight for the seven berths on the squad. After a few weeks of practice, places on the team were determined and Coach Robert Meggison set about the task of moulding a strong net squad out of an assortment of experienced and inexperienced players.

After dropping their first engagement to Cadillac, the Black and Gold netters reached new heights by decisively trimming a powerful Frankfort aggregation by a score of 5-2. Continuing to maintain their fast early season pace, the Trojans turned in sparkling performances throughout the remainder of the 1940 campaign and, although suffering their share of reverses, made this season the best since the sport was revived a year ago.

The seven man squad numbered only two seniors, namely Bob Smith and Bruce Wangen. Those who will return for next year's net wars are Dick Loomis, Jack Bensley, Dale Wares, Dick Fitzmaurice, and John Collins.

Golf

Although hampered by bad weather, the Trojan golf team rounded into top condition in a short time and started the season with a bang by overwhelming Big Rapids and Manistee in their first two contests. The Black and Gold linksmen continued to trod in the path of success for the rest of the campaign to hang up a record for future golf squads to shoot at.

Jack Hensel, Bill McCall, Bob Ransom, Bob Cole, Rupert

Clark, Harry Lichty, Bob Heuss, and Bernard Green made up this year's strong aggregation, each consistently carding low scores during the spring's competition. Hensel, McCall, and Ransom will be lost through graduation but prospects for another good year seem especially bright.

Credit for the successes of the 1940 season must go not only to the players but to Charles Crawford as well, whose coaching throughout the campaign was of inestimable value.

Address of Welcome

Today, as the Class of 1940 nears the completion of its high school course we welcome you to our Class Day Exercises and sincerely hope that they will serve to better acquaint you with the activities, aspirations, and achievements of our Class during these last four happy years.

It is with both happiness and regret that in a few days we leave this building never again to return as students of the Traverse City High School, for today marks a new period in our lives.

It is fitting that we should here express our indebtedness to our parents for the unselfish sacrifices, encouragement, and inspiration they have given us throughout our high school years. May we prove to them—and to the faculty members, who have instructed and inspired us in the pursuit of education—that the high ideals of honor, loyalty, and co-operation which they have instilled in us will not be forgotten as we take our places in a world sorely in need of such ideals.

Again, on behalf of each member of the Class of 1940, may I extend to you our heartiest and most cordial welcome.

WILLIAM MILLIKEN

“In Our Years”

PART I.

“The Stone Age”

After deep and concentrated thought, we historians decided that the years of our class are comparable to the principal ages in history, insofar as our abilities and progress are concerned. Just as the man in the Stone Age was practically at a loss to know how to accomplish the necessary duties in order to live, so were we in the freshman year hampered by our lack of self-confidence and knowledge. When primitive man learned that he could better himself by using simple weapons, the beginning of his progress was assured.

During the freshman year, we learned by experience and through the aid of our teachers to have more confidence in ourselves. A capacity for leadership was implanted in some — others developed abilities to succeed along other lines, such as sports, dramatics, science, music and journalism.

The following officers were chosen to guide the destinies of our class: Bill Milliken, president, Bill McCall, vice-president; Jack Heimforth, secretary, Louise Perry, treasurer.

The freshman class sponsored two of the outstanding parties of the year. The first, which was a hard times affair, was held on November 6. The second, on May 8, was attended by more than one hundred persons, who danced in the Community Room to Al Wayne's orchestra.

We were the first freshman class to inhabit the new Junior High building. We had been put in with the Senior High school students after the school had burned in 1934, and so we were very proud to again have our own building.

In music, Jack Hensch, Paul Gardner, Robert Graham, and Tom Lewis played in the state contest at Ann Arbor.

Some people excelled scholastically. In the honor assembly the following people received bronze pins for their scholastic records: Eileen Groesser, Vera Touch, Helen Goedrich, Jack Heimforth, Dorothy Crawford, Mary Emerson, William Newton, David Stiffler, Victoria Padoba, Bill Lichty, and Virginia Wahl.

PART II.

"The Bronze Age"

As man in the Bronze Age discovered that by mixing tin and copper together to form bronze he would have a stronger material for his weapons to combat foes in his world, we found that we had gained more courage and confidence from our experiences of the previous year.

To guide our way through the Labyrinth of our first year in Senior High, we chose Paul Gardner, president, Virginia Wahl, vice president; Helen Seabrook, secretary, and Jeanne MacIntosh, treasurer.

During this year floodlights, which made the football season a brilliant one, were introduced into our school, the first time in a school belonging to the Big Seven Conference.

In honor of the football team, who won the Big Seven Championship for the first time in the history of the school, we sponsored a "Big Seven Champ's Review." Paul Gardner, Charles Frye, Bob Hemming, and Harry Bauman were honored.

Another honor came to our class through Helen Goodrich, who won the district declamation contest with "Salt" by Henry Van Dyke.

Because of numerous complaints that the students of Traverse City high school were below average in spelling, Mr. Fisher conducted a spelling test for all high school students. Jack Gillett led the boys of the school with a perfect score, and Eileen Groesser the girls with a score of 99.

Helen Goodrich, William Lichty, and David Stettler were awarded silver scholarship pins for their high scholastic standing at the honor assembly.

We are proud to say that our Sophomore class with two hundred twenty four members was the largest in the history of the school.

We feel that we could not have passed through the Sophomore year, the Bronze Age, without the kind and helpful advice of Miss Waltz and Mr. Horning. We regret that these two, who gave so freely of their time and shared with us our successes and difficulties, are not with us as we reach our goal.

PATRICIA HEIGES

"In Our Years"

PART III.

"The Iron Age"

Came September 1938, with a class of 207¹. Nearly all of us had started in the rough two years before, picking up new and simple facts for our tools. A year later this same class began to put a little polish on the knowledge and sharpened their tools for their own advantage.

The members of junior class began to diversity and display individualities. Their accumulated information showed the polish and initiative of the iron age. Some developed qualities of leadership. In acknowledgement of that we elected William Lichty, president, Patricia Kephart, vice president, Phyllis Bauer, secretary and Charles Brown, treasurer.

Several students of the class found argumentation helpful in their pursuits, just as mankind had eventually learned how to settle its arguments more peacefully. Debating the question of the United States forming an alliance with Great Britain, the entire team was composed of juniors, who were Helen Goodrich, George Panter, William Newton, Phyllis Bauer, Barbara Hervert, Robert Smith and Leslie McCain. As with the falling of a nation and the rising of a new more powerful one, they were defeated in their first attempt, but later pushed forward and won the regional championship.

Others acquired the ability to write. This ability was well displayed in the Challenger magazine, a magazine whose primary purpose was to give each student in the school a literary challenge. Under the able guidance of David Stiffler, it became popular throughout the region.

As in the year before, many of the hale and hearty men of the class participated willingly and helpfully in the realm of sports. Both football and basketball contained its quota of junior members. During this year we also saw old sports renewed and new sports initiated into our athletic program. Our classmates cooperated in these events in goodly numbers.

In the Junior Tea and Fashion Show another leader was distinguished in the chairman, Phyllis Bauer. Other qualities were also illustrated in those who participated here — such qualities as poise and personality.

In the month of May the juniors concentrated their efforts into a magnificent junior prom which was set off from other similar affairs by its marine and piscatorial atmosphere. The responsibility of supervision was invested in the general chairman, Jerry Mikesell. Under him several others supervised the work of particular committees.

As a reward for their achievements in scholarship, character, leadership, and service, the following students were elected to the National Honor Society: Helen Groesser, Helen Goodrich, Phyllis Bauer, William Newton, William Lichty, Jack Heimforth, Rosemary Rennie, Patricia Kephart, David Stiffler, Vera Fouch, and William Milliken.

As the accomplishments of the iron age paved the way to greater achievement in the steel age, so the accomplishments of the class of '40 as juniors made the senior year more enjoyable and productive.

WALTER JOHNSON

"In Our Years"

PART IV.

"The Age of Steel"

Carrying on the analogy created by our fellow historians, we feel that it would be an endless task to review the progress made by man in the social, economic, educational and scientific fields. In this Age of Steel, man has indeed learned to make better use of the natural resources and abilities given him.

Comparing our twelfth year to this modern age, we find our senior year, too, has been one of great progress and activity. Through the capable direction of our faculty and the association with our fellow classmates during the past years, we have exercised further our initiative, knowledge, and ability—qualities which have enabled us to carry on successfully the many duties of a progressive senior class. With 189 students receiving diplomas this year, we are proud to boast that this is the largest graduating class in the history of Traverse City High School.

In the fall election, the following executives were chosen to lead us: President, George Pinner; vice-president, Don Sanford; secretary, Pauline Graphos; and treasurer, Robert Taylor.

With complete revision of the constitution, our student council and student court have functioned effectively under the excellent supervision of Governor William Miliken assisted by Vice Governor, William Lichty. Clerk, Louis LaFramier, and Treasurer, Don Sanford. Helen Goodrich was appointed Chief Justice of the Student Court with Leslie McCann as Prosecutor. Many other seniors participated actively in the student government either as officers or members.

In the sports department, the football team made a good showing under Captain Bob Hemming. Other seniors on the squad included Charles Frye, Paul Gardner, Harry Bassant, Mac Cox, George Umfor, Jack Morgan, Wilson Habbell, Dick Nelson, Jack Merrill, and William Newton.

Our basketball team ended in a blaze of glory by bringing Traverse City its first state basketball championship after defeating Detroit's St. Theresa at the Jonson Field House, East Lansing. The seniors playing their last high school basketball were Mac Cox, Jack Hensel, Jack Hemforth, Jack Morgan, Bob Hemming, Charles Frye, George Umfor, Francis Rollo, and Bill Miliken. Jack Hensel acted as President of the Athletic Association, and Dorothy Crawford, veteran cheer leader, added spirit throughout the season's games.

Seniors on the baseball team were James Stoll, Bob Hemming, Garth Dean, Lars Halverson, James Shonck, Charles Frye, Darwin Hopkins, Dick Stowe, and Dick Nelson. Those participating in track were Paul Gardner, Mac Cox, Bill Miliken, Louis LaFramier, William Lichty, Les McCann, James Hughes, Jack Merrill, Jerry Mikesell, Francis Rollo, and Laverne Smith. Seniors on the golf team were Jack Hensel and William McCall, and on the tennis team were Robert Smith, Bruce Wangen, and Robert Ransom.

Future war reporters and commentators found ample experience and training on the Black and Gold staff. The following members of the class of '40 who made possible this weekly publication were: Bill Lichty, Bruce Wangen, Dorothy Oakes, Jean MacIntosh, Grace Gilbert, Bob Taylor, Rosemary Rennie, Phyllis Bauer, Jo Anne Roosa, Axel Lardie, Paul Gardner, Harry Hibbard, Bob Ransom, Marjorie Grindstuen, Helen Seabrook, Helen Goodrich, and Robert Smith.

One of the winter season's outstanding social events was the Senior Frolic on February 29, a formal affair in an atmosphere of Jollywood, planned by Betty Kistler and her able committee.

As a climax to all social events of the year, on May 29 the junior class royally entertained the seniors, faculty, and board members with the colorful Junior Prom.

A beautiful setting and good orchestra glorified the occasion. We wish to extend our appreciation to the juniors.

The debate squad composed of Les McCain, Barbara Herbert, William Newton, Joe Backorik, Robert Taylor, and Walter Johnson as seniors, again was successful in entering the state eliminations.

In May, the senior play, "320 College Avenue," was presented with the following cast of twenty-six seniors: Mary Blanchard, Joe Backorik, Robert Taylor, Louts La Franier, Betty Law, Jerry Mikesell, Joan Shaw, Robert Bergstrom, Virginia Thorpe, Elmer Ritola, Jo Anne Roosa, Jack Gillett, Pauline Graphos, Robert Smith, Phyllis Bauer, Axel Lardie, Louise Perry, Grace Gilbert, Anthony Mance, Jack Morgan, Anna Tufelsky, Robert Dewar, Ed Irish, Betty Ransom, George Panter, and Les McCain.

The publication of the senior annual, "The Pines," was made under Helen Goodrich, Editor-in-Chief, and her staff consisting of William Milaken, Betty Kistler, Rosemary Rennie, David Stiffler, Vera Fouch, Jean MacIntosh, Phyllis Bauer, Pauline Graphos, Dorothy Oakes, William Newton, Bruce Wengen, William Lichty, Virginia Wahl, Dorothy Crawford, and George Panter.

One of the outstanding organizations of our school is the National Honor Society, established here in 1930. It is the ambition of every student to achieve such an honor, and to be eligible for this organization there are four basic qualities: scholarship, leadership, service, and character, on which decisions are made by the teachers. The students chosen this year were: Barbara Herbert, Virginia Thorpe, May Emerson, Betty Kistler, Robert Bergstrom, Walter Johnson, Anna Tufelska, Grace Gilbert, Jack Hensel, Virginia Wahl, Bruce Wengen, Mary Blanchard, George Panter, Ester Brown, Margaret Ruegger, Pauline Graphos, Helen Seabrook, Victoria Podoba, and Patricia Heiges.

Others of our class have distinguished themselves in musical endeavors. The members of the band and orchestra who are seniors are: Robert Dewar, Arland Sanborn, Robert Ransom, Robert Graham, Helen Balcock, Robert Bergstrom, LeRoy Ghering, Ed Irish, Elaine Lautner, William Newton, Louise Perry, Phyllis Eldred, Phyllis Bauer, Victoria Podoba, and Grace Gilbert. One of our number added much gayety and harmony to our social life by organizing a superlative dance orchestra, called "Bob Ransom's Band."

Vera Fouch was chosen to represent the seniors at the D. A. R. convention in Battle Creek. The delegate is selected on qualities of personality, scholarship, and leadership.

An honor group composed of those students who have maintained an average of ninety or better throughout their four years in high school will this year take the place of a valedictorian and salutatorian. Those in the "above ninety" group are Phyllis Bauer, Mary Blanchard, May Emerson, Vera Fouch, Helen Goodrich, Pauline Graphos, Helen Groesser, Patricia Heiges, Jack Heimforth, Jack Hensel, Walter Johnson, Patricia Kephart, Betty Kistler, William Lichty, William Milliken, William Newton, Victoria Podoba, Rosemary Rennie, Helen Seabrook, David Stiffler, Virginia Wahl, and Bruce Wengen.

History has recorded much advancement from the time of the rude man of the earliest ages, who made his weapons and secured his food and lodging by the simple use of the stone, to this age of rapid transportation and communication, in which we are enabled to enjoy such a high standard of living.

We, too, have grown and developed in the last four years of secondary school life. Although we as a class and as individuals have progressed and grown in initiative, poise, and knowledge through these years, we realize we have much more to accomplish.

Youth's Prayer

*Young! And proud of our inheritance!
Justly proud to be Americans
For the freedom of this country that's been won,
Living up to Her ideals
In all democratic fields
Is the task we've set before us to be done.*

*Strong! And looking forward to the time
When the youth of all America will combine
To defend the standards our forefathers made,
To give peace to all the world.
Let the dove's wings be unfurled.
Our Father, 'tis for this that we have prayed.*

In Our School

As the class of 1940, we are leaving Traverse City High School. We are leaving behind us four of the happiest years of our lives. We are also leaving a record, a record of accomplishments, influence, and contributions.

Perhaps our senior year has been the most significant period of our high school days. For it was during this year that we became the upper-classmen, the leaders in school life and the directors in school activity.

In the fall of 1939, the seniors launched out to improve the student government and make it one of the finest in Northern Michigan. With Bill Milliken as governor, the council was destined to be a strong, active group of young legislators. It was this council that raised a $50.00 scholarship to further the education of some deserving senior, that revised and printed a practical, workable constitution for senior high school, that drafted and put into effect a new set of rules to govern school parties; that eliminated congestion in the halls by instituting traffic rules, that sponsored effective clean up campaigns, and started action on the huge project of paving Pine Street between Seventh and Eighth streets.

In conjunction with the student council, the student court was instituted to give justice to the students as well as enforce student laws. The court consists of eight associate justices, a student prosecutor, the court secretary, and the chief-justice.

During the course of our school year, we have felt the influence of a new activity period especially designed to give everyone the opportunity of serving in one or two clubs. Incorporated in the activity period were special courses in vocational guidance, prepared and directed by Mr. Karl Fisher. Over forty clubs have been functioning during this last year.

It is needless to say that the Traverse City Trojans emerged victorious from the state class B basketball tournament this spring because the seniors of 1940 had eight A-1 cagers on the team.

This year's National Honor Society may well attribute its extensive program of activities to the senior blood in its ranks. The society sponsored an honor campaign, a formal initiation service for the new members, and an honor banquet in May.

Two important influences in school life have been the Black and Gold and the Challenger, a literary magazine edited by David Stiffler. Both the school paper and the Challenger have made great strides this year. The Black and Gold, under the direction of its editor, Bill Lichty, published an eight page weekly all through the first semester, and during the second semester, the only twelve page edition in the history of the Black and Gold left the presses of Traverse City High School. This extra edition constituted the first alumni issue of the paper.

Another school institution is our annual, the "Pines," edited by a staff of thirteen seniors.

Lastly, the seniors of '40 have made plans to hold their class together. They have stepped forward and established another "first" by planning a class reunion. Under the leadership of William Lichty committees have already started to function and prepare for a class meeting in the fall.

Today, the class of '40 challenges the juniors, the seniors of tomorrow, to keep up the good work, to improve the practices that have been started, and to originate newer, more progressive methods of making this, our high school, a happier place to study.

In Our Future

PART I.

The Class Prophecy of 1940

We now bring you previews of the positions of the graduates of 1940, radiating from station T. C. H. S. and brought to you by Tillie Lootinhorn from Thompsonville.

Good afternoon, Ladies and Gentlemen. My first bit of information for you this afternoon is that the Slicker Beauty Salon has now opened for business. Yesterday, as movie actress Glarice Glamour, alias Helen Goodrich, entered the Salon for her daily beautifying treatment, she noticed that several of her 1940 classmates were employed. Barber, Jack Hensel, came rushing to her side, leaving patron Don Novak completely covered with steaming towels. When Jack finally remembered his submerged customer, he rushed back to remove the steaming towels from the smoldering remains of what once was a good customer. Pearl Freeman was busily manicuring Angeline Lewis's often photographed hands. She (Angeline) models for the new Flareglow nail polish, manufactured by Eileen Groesser. Her latest shade is "Hot Orange." Along the wall are seen many pictures of hair styles created by none other than that chic, well-dressed Pauline Graphos. Phyllis Eldred, famous for her hair dressing, uses her unique ability and transforms many celebrities into creations of heavenly beauty.

At the local theater, owned by Dale Slocum and Perry Hayes, we see the play "Where the White Goes When the Snow Melts," starring those inseparable lovers Marion Davis and Joe Bachorik.

One of the reasons you all turn to the funny page of the newspaper first is to see the gay antics of that character, Jump the Kangaroo, created by Lavonne Koenig.

Mr. Tom Hoffman, Sneaknet Service Agent of the U. S. Government, arrested Bob Hemming, notorious conspirator, for plotting against the Federal law which forbids the planning of midnight dates.

Jacqueline Garneau entertained the Spinsters' Club of the class of '40 at her home yesterday. Following an appropriate discussion on "Up To-Date Methods of Proposing," the Ways and Means Committee discussed the spring drive of next year's campaign. After the delicious refreshments of soup and tea, the members sang "Sympathy" in chorus and returned to their respective homes.

Sylvia Nyland has become world famous for her parachute jumps. Her latest exploit took place at the Herbert Airport. Managing the controls of the ship from which the death-defying Sylvia jumped is dare-devil Dunlop. Shooting the beams over the ether is Harry Groesser. Working in the hangar are Joe Rusch, Rex Hooper, and Charles Eldred as grease monkeys.

Johnny Fisher has just inherited $10,000 from his great uncle Oscar. With this money he has supplied Traverse High with over-stuffed lounges and in place of fire extinguishers, gum machines have been installed. The old wooden stairs have been replaced by escalators and the banisters by long swooping slides. The latter are kept slippery at all times.

Muriel Packard and Doris Tompkins have made many contributions to the art of cookery. Their most famous is the eggless, egg-omelet.

Mary Blanchard, after refusing several proposals by members of the Class of '40, has devoted her life to social work and is called by the poor, "The Madonna of the Slums."

Some of our classmates grew so used to school life that they decided to carry on, through teaching. If we looked into the school, we'd see Anna Tafelsky teaching shorthand, Vergil Huddleston directing a typing class, Evelyn Hulka teaching chemistry, and Betty Williams puzzling her students with problems of geometry.

The animated cartoon of Angie the Angletworm now showing at all Brakel Theaters has made Margie Nink famous as a cartoonist. For her models she used Betty Putnam as Milly the Ant, Louise Perry as Greta Grasshopper, Bob Dewar as Luggie the Louse. The character of Ferdie the Fly is none other than Robert Schroeder. Last but not least, Angie the Angletworm is Betty Shonek.

Jack Heimforth has recently been appointed poet laureate of Hamtramck.

Betty Kistler has had her giggle patented and is teaching it to others and making a handsome living thereby.

Robert Schrader is playing the pipe organ at the village church in Grawn.

After spending the best part of their lives in years of research and study of the complications and technicalities connected with such an occupation, Harry Bauman, Adolph Kroupa, and Bill McCall have started the commercial production of — pussy-willows!

David Stiffler and Don Sanford are leisurely spending their winters in Florida, passing their judgment on the fair beauties of the South.

In the Kentucky Derby this year we find in the line-up Breezy Brezinski riding Miss Reynolds' horse, Zip Gary is seated on Simple Simon, owned by R. J. Bergstrom. Rip Riley is riding the latest sensation of the nation, Butch, owned by Kathryn Nordahl.

I will now turn you over to Gertie Gossip from Grawn.

The Class Prophecy of 1940

Hiya Folks! Today I'm going to take you to Rennie Rendezvous Resort, which now employs many of our former classmates. As we enter the lobby, Miss Robinette Cornell greets us in her position as hostess. As we registered at the desk, who should we see but J. I. Evans in the responsible position of clerk, and as he called for a bell hop, we saw two familiar faces spring up before us, lean and lanky Charles Klepac and that boisterous Seab Spencer. Remember Vernon Hovic wanting to be an aviator? He chose the next best thing and is an elevator boy (25 flights in all) in the Rennie Rendezvous. When we entered our room, we noticed a short blond figure admiring herself in the shining mirror which she had just cleaned — none other than Helen Murphy in her capacity as chambermaid. We also notice on the service slip that Leola Bohrer is acting as public stenographer.

Bill Newton, noted Senator from Michigan, has at last given up his stage of filibustering to stop the bill for the discontinuance of the W. P. A. This would endanger the positions of Harry Hubbard, Jack Morgan, and Jerry Mikesell, his 1940 classmates.

Bob Taylor is now employed in the Ghering Glass Factory as the head blower.

Iars Halverson, in collaboration with Dick Leggett, Harold Aeschliman, and Robert Seanchorn, have successfully completed their life long ambition of raising pitless cherries.

Harriet Stephens is now managing the Ankle Sox Girls' Baseball Team. Batters are — No hit Haywood and Goldie Greenwald, 1st baseman, Grounder Gilbert; 2nd baseman, Liz Garthe, 3rd baseman, Mutt Meyers. Fielders, Maggie Antony, Batty Bauer, and Butterfinger Beckwith.

All victories — no losses. Reason: Umpire Umlor.

JoAnne Roosa is going to the Pelizzari sanitarium to recover from a nervous breakdown which she incurred after completing her latest novel, "The Private Life of a Basketball Hero."

Director Bob Graham of the Beethoven Sympathy Orchestra has been giving a series of concerts at Dill's Corners. With him are Bob Smith, Arland Sanborn, and Bob Ransom.

Charles Brown has just returned from selling fur coats to the natives of the Fur Islands and is now planning a trip to the North Pole to sell Sarongs to the Eskimos, who have been taught the new interpretative jungle dance by Maria Moravec.

George Panter and Darwin Dunn have contributed to the scientific world with their newly completed research on the psycho-analysis of a cootie, and Bruce Wangen and Warren Wychoff have done their duty to the world by completing their formula for Weight-Waning pills.

Little did we think while in High School that we would be lulled to sleep by ducler tones of our cheerful classmate, Jack Merrill, or that he would continue his work after graduation and extend the scope of his soothing, sleep producing voice to the realms of all childhood. He is working at present in a nursery school established by Myron Petroske, who always did love the little dears (Bless their hearts).

Raymond Axtell is now the Instructor of "Catch, marbles, and mumble pegs" in good old Traverse High.

Odessa Mlupcek and Marian Howell are now broadcasting over station I O U as Sarah and Susie, the Sob Sisters.

We have also just received a letter telling us that Paul Gardner has become a Doctor and is running a sanatorium for persons suffering from egomania.

Our next commentator this afternoon is Annabelle Appleton from Acme Go ahead Acme.

VIRGINIA THORPE

PART III.

The Class Prophecy of 1940

Hello, Everyone Our latest news today is that Nancy Miller has just secured a position assisting Walter Winchell in his rapid resume of daily happenings.

Walter Johnson is now one of our distinguished Supreme Court Justices.

Marcella and Marcetta Denny, Joyce Johnson, Esther Brown, Lois Jolly, Lucille Rowe, Arduth Bratsch, Cherry Chamberlain are now carrying out "Florence Nightingale's duty" by attending the sick.

Edgar Zobel is now well known for his invention of a new machine which milks the cows, separates the cream, and churns the butter all with just one crank of the handle.

Marge Beam and Marie Berry run the Select Haven of Rest for Spinsters out in the outskirts of Walton Junction.

Victoria Podoba is successfully sawing her way through the Hour of Charm.

As I waft the sweet aroma of dandelions furnished by the Tall and Touch Flower Shoppe, it reminds me of the old days as I gathered dandelions for the Senior Frolic.

If you're looking for entertainment, you might go over to Orville Corpe's popular dance hall on Snaker Island. The drawing interest there is the dance marathon which has existed for last 2 years. The couples remaining on the floor are Helen Babcock and Louis Lalrimer, Lorane Bardette and Ben Boyle, Marion Lewis and Eddy Irish.

Jim Hughes has one of those "nice jobs if you can get 'em". He's working in a lipstick factory and enjoys his job of testing various lipsticks to see that they won't come off.

Millard Risky has just completed a sensational non-stop sprint to the South Pole and back.

Ruth Schrader is teaching physical training to the little natives in Central Africa.

Mary Emerson and Helen Emery own and operate a grass skirt factory in Honolulu. They just sent a shipment of 500 skirts to Alaska for the Shaw-Henrick Theatrical Co. Pat Heiges has just finished a course in "Interpretation of the Hula Dance" and is one of their main features.

David Berkowitz, assisted by Juliana Bradford and Laura Conant, is a successful jeweler on Monroe Street in Grand Rapids. He has diamonds ranging from 10c to a dollar.

The Dunn-Darwin Department Store is now having a fire sale. Behind a toy counter we find Dick Nelson and Frank Garland. In the hardware division we see Ed Bradford, that old prankster, still handing out tacks. In the Ready-to-Wear we see Evelyn Titzen, Bethalee Perryman, Mae Komerska, Betty Reusig, and Haine Lautner. The shoe department boasts the able salesmanship of Lee Norris, Bill Perrett, and Tom Lewis. Tony Mikowski is the watchful floor-walker.

Marjorie Grindstuen, our little drinking violet, has become world famous as an Oriental dancer and has danced before the crowned heads of both Bingham and Hatches Crossing.

I will now switch you over to Kitty Kat from Kingsley.

VIRGINIA WAHL

PART IV.

The Class Prophecy of 1940

Today we are in front of the Hally Boo Building where that nationally known, locally owned magazine Hally Boo is published. The Editor-in-Chief is none other than Bill Lichty. Members of his staff are Louise Love, Dorothy Oakes, Algot Wickstrand, Robert West; and there is eagle-eyed Bill Milliken with a Fuller brush, sweeping more dirt out of the gutter for his "And let me tell you" column.

The Ruegger-Crawford-Kitchen Circus features a carload of freaks in their side show. The living skeleton is Vernon Cavitch, the sword swallower is Max Burrows, and the wild man from Borneo is Elmer Ritola.

Virginia Thorpe is giving dancing lessons at the famous continental club, "The Chicken's Wing" to the tune of Jim Sbonck's sublime orchestra.

Helen Seabrook is writing an advice to the lovelorn column called "Ask Aunt Liz."

Lorraine Cook is now editing a fashion magazine called "Chic."

Jean MacIntosh is a swimming instructor in a travelling academy for seals in Alaska.

Harold Carnahan is the contender for the light weight championship under the able management of Axel Lardie.

Don Tompkins has just perfected a new bleach for hair and is now operating a successful beauty shop in Peshowbetown in collaboration with Vera Fouch.

Betty Law and Louise Gee are leaders in the National Anti Gum Chewing League.

Mac Cox and Charles Fryc have gone into business for themselves. They had such good luck with their biscuits and cakes that they are in demand all over the world for armor plating and ammunition.

Rex Maricetta is the new superintendent of schools, and he believes in the maxim "Spare the rod and spoil the child." He enforces the Board of Education's ruling of a half holiday three times a week.

Did you know that Jack Gillett is a successful salesman of 'Pompadour Pomade,' which is manufactured by Dick Stowe and Darwin Hopkins?

Ies McCain has become a famous author and is best known for his 2,000 page volume "Loves and Life of a Cheerleader."

Garth Dean and Alvin Loomis have taken up professional baseball and both have attained a large degree of success. James Stoll is holding a responsible position as bat boy on the Grawn team; and Don Lautner occupies a corresponding position on the Copenish team, which is owned and managed by none other than Jack Kohn.

Anthony Mance has achieved his ambition by making a non-stop flight across the Boardman River.

Betty Cole is now a secretary to Tom Deering, President of the Acme Fertilizer Co.

Another important new item today is that Pat Kephart was arrested yesterday in New York for breaking the walking speed limit. She was seen going down Broadway at such a rate that people were unable to get out of her path in time and two were killed and several injured. She was arrested by Chief of Police Wahl and sentenced to four years of slow walking.

This closes our news broadcast for today so I will now return you to station T. C. H. S. and to the year of 1940.

BETTY KISTLER

The President Speaks

We, the class of 1940, have assembled for the last time as a unit of this institution of learning. It is here that we have made many friends and acquaintances which as time progresses we shall cherish evermore.

As your president, I was privileged to function in many class activities and to act as your spokesman and representative upon various occasions. In this capacity I have always tried my best to encourage cooperation and to arbitrate for the best interests of the class as a whole.

Every class has its accomplishments and successes, and every class should be proud of the improvement or advances of which it can boast. However, it is without exalted ego that we are hereby leaving a written record of our accomplishments.

During the last year, the seniors added to the social functions of the school by sponsoring dances, a senior frolic, and by producing a successful senior play. Another outstanding feature was the debating team that rose to a high place in inter-school debating throughout the state. To add to our scholastic achievements, we were honored to have 30 of our members elected to the National Honor Society.

In the field of sports, we find that we have had a successful football season combined with outstanding results on the greensward and cinder track.

Never in the history of this institution has there been a basketball team produced which has attained or acquired the rank and honor that the team, led by the senior members of Traverse City High School, attained this year. This fact alone gives the senior class something to be extremely proud of.

But please do not misunderstand. These facts we have presented are not meant to enthrone us but rather to be a survey of what has been accomplished by our class as a whole. It is our fondest hope and desire that the members of our class will not slacken in their efforts to succeed and will find triumphant achievements in the social and economical whirl of the world.

To the class of '41 we offer our apology if in any manner we have belittled your efforts to succeed by describing and enumerating our accomplishments. We wish rather that you may, by visualizing our mistakes, make corresponding improvements in any adventure you may undertake. In order to stimulate within your ranks a desire for better accomplishments, we, the class of '40 extend to you a challenge to exceed our record of fulfillments by undertaking adventures of your own design and to surpass if you may the standards and ideals we have established in scholastics, social activities, and student government.

Will the president of the Junior Class please step forward.

President Lichty, I relinquish to you, the President of the class of '41, the senior gavel, the symbol of authority. I wish to remind you of the high standards of the class of '41. The graduating Senior Class extend to you, the incoming seniors, the wishes for the best of success and smooth sailing.

GEORGE PANTER

If I Could Have My Wish

The graduating class of Traverse City High School for 1940 is about to go out into the world. Some will continue their education in higher schools of learning; some will seek employment in the business world. But for all of us there are hardships to be faced, problems and decisions to be met, ideals to be upheld, and discouragements to be overcome.

We have been more fortunate than we now realize to have obtained a free education in fine schools under the expert direction of well trained teachers. They have attempted to teach us to appreciate the fine things in life and have tried to prepare us to take our places in life as citizens of a democratic nation. We have received mental and physical guidance from them. A modern school, libraries, well equipped gymnasiums, and fine laboratories have been put at our disposal. For all these opportunities we thank our parents and teachers.

If I could have my wish, each member of this class of 1940 would take these things which he has learned with him through life to help him toward his goal of success and happiness, and he would come to appreciate all that has been done for him.

If I could have my wish, we would all strive for a high goal, and if we reached that, strive for an even higher one. It was Robert Louis Stevenson who said in his poem, "Eldorado":

"To travel hopefully is better than to arrive, and the true success is to labor."

The tall and stately pines have an inspiring message for all who care to listen. The pine has a lowly start in life. At first it is such an insignificant tree in this world of tall trees, much the same as we are as we go out to face this world of ours for the first time. But a mighty tree develops, always growing, always striving to stretch its lofty limbs higher and higher toward the heavens. If I could have my wish, we would all heed this message of the pines. We would not let other things lead us astray from our path toward success but would stand as firmly as the pine to our ideals.

The pine is a place of refuge from the hot sun and the chilling rain. We can always depend upon it to be there when such a refuge is needed. If I could have my wish, each one of us would help those in need, be it just a comforting word or a mighty sacrifice.

If I could have my wish, we would all be successful and undiscouraged in anything we should undertake. The law of averages, however, says that not everyone can achieve success, but if I could have my wish, each one of us could be triumphant even if in a small way, and everyone would always remember that it is better to have tried and failed than never to have tried at all.

If I could have my wish, we would always be happy. We would always face the trials of life with a smiling face and spread cheer wherever we would go.

If I could have my wish, in years to follow, each one of us would be pointed to with pride, and we would hear people say, "He is a happy man for he has lived hopefully, uprightly, helpfully, and courageously."

EILEEN GROESSER

We Bequeath

We, the class of 1940, of Traverse City High School, being of firm mind and body, retaining some of our faculties, herewith in our last will and testament bequeath these same remaining faculties to the School Board, teachers, and underclassmen of this institution with the following grants:

JOINT GRANTS

- I. To the School Board, we bequeath the school (slightly damaged).
- II. To the Faculty, sweet relief of our presence.
- III. To the underclassmen: 1. The Faculty (still simmering) 2. Any of our "overlooked" debts.

Here it is — all finished after weeks of hard labor. Now that it's completed, and in your hands, we're glad. You might call it a "glorified family album" — it's a picture book of your school days, your friends, classmates, and teachers. It's yours. keep it — for it will fulfill its purpose in the years of tomorrow by recalling many happy memories of the hours of yesterday.

Acknowledgments

Upon completion of this book, the annual board wish to extend their appreciation to the many students and teachers who contributed directly and indirectly to the production of the annual. Many worked comparatively unknown, and yet their contributions are most important in making the 1940 "Pines" a first-class annual.

Without the aid of Mr. Chapman, the annual would be an impossibility. It is difficult to express our sincere appreciation for the long hours and valuable information that Mr. Chapman gave us. He was always on hand to do every and any kind of a task. He gave us much of his time and received hardly a word of thanks. He knew what had to be done and oft-times straightened matters when we mixed-up everything. It is enough to say that he was behind the wheel, steering us along, keeping us out of trouble, and finally bringing us through with a completed annual.

Another person who gave us whole hearted cooperation and proved to be indispensable is Ford Cary. He gave his time and material so that we might have pictures of the underclassmen. Whenever a picture was needed in a hurry (and that was most of the time), he could be depended on to produce the right thing. His excellent photography has been most important in making the "Pines" valuable.

The board is deeply indebted to Mr. Loomis for his assistance in the sports division. When a picture was needed, it was our superintendent who could be depended upon to get it. We also wish to thank him for his message to the class of '40.

To all the teachers and students who cooperated in the trials of picture taking, to those seniors who willingly had their annual pictures retaken, to the underclassmen who willingly responded to "extra sessions" with the photographer, and to Evelyn Dahlquist who willingly endured the trials of selling underclassmen pictures, we extend our appreciation.

To the many students who pitched in and helped with the typing during the last days before the dead line, to Jackson Bensley who helped with the photographic work of the sports department, to the many teachers who understood why we didn't have our lessons during those last few days and allowed us to make up our work, to students and teachers who helped write copy, to seniors who rushed to get their class day material ready before the dead line, and to our parents who endured with us to the very end, we, the annual board, do sincerely thank.

Last of all, but not the least, we extend our grateful appreciation to our printers and engravers, The White Printing Company of Grand Rapids and the Record-Eagle Engraving Company of Traverse City. Much of the real beauty of this book may be credited to the conscientiousness of our printers, engravers, and cover manufacturers.

ALUMNI SOCIETY

1940 Class Reunion

The class of 1940 did not end its days as a group when each of its 189 members received diplomas on the night of graduation, for this class, the largest to graduate in the history of the school, will assemble again in the halls of old Central high school. Not just once, but many times we hope to gather with our classmates and renew our acquaintances with the people with whom we spent five of the best years of our lives during our high school days.

The first reunion of the class of 1940 will take place at the high school on Thursday, December 27. A general class meeting will be called in the afternoon at which everyone will have a chance to greet his fellow members. Entertainment will also be included on the afternoon's session.

The evening's program will be opened with a large banquet in the cafeteria, which will be followed by a welcome from the class president, and a short address by a guest speaker. Class officers will also be elected at this time to serve until the next class reunion. At the conclusion of the banquet, an informal dance will be held in the gym where all of the class members will enjoy themselves as they once did at the all school parties which were so popular during their years in senior high.

A great deal of preparation is required for an event of this kind, for which detailed plans were drawn and six competent committees headed by some of the most able leaders of the class were selected to make all of the necessary arrangements. These committees began their work before school was dismissed in the spring and the reunion had progressed from a "good idea" to concrete shape by the end of May.

One of the biggest jobs of the reunion will be the correspondence, which will be handled by a committee of twelve headed by Don Sanford and Pauline Grapbos, class secretary. The committee is as follows: Robinette Cornell, Joyce Johnson, Gene Kitchen, Joan Shaw, Arland Sanborn, Algot Wickstrand, Louis La Franier, Ben Boyle, Margaret Antony, Vera Fouch, Charles Brown.

All arrangements for the general schedule and banquet program will be made by the program committee in charge of Helen Goodrich and Grace Gilbert. Others who will help are Betty Law, Phyllis Bauer, Margy Meam, Bob Dewar, Jack Gillett, Phyllis Eldred, Dick Stowe, Doris Tompkins, Dot Crawford, and Louise Gee.

George Panter will contract the banquet and handle seating and place cards. He will be assisted by Marcella Denny, Bob Smith, Mac Cox, Bruce Wangen, and Warren Wychoff.

The dance after the banquet will be in charge of Les McCain, with Juliana Bradford, Ed Irish, J. J. Garneau, Jerry Mikesell, Joanne Roosa, and Virginia Wahl making up the committee. They will hire the orchestra and decorate the gym.

The problem of financing this project will be handled by Bill Milliken, assisted by treasurer Bob Taylor, and Marion Davis, Helen Haywood, Dorothy Oakes, Bill Newton, and Edgar Zobel.

The slate for new officers will be prepared by a committee headed by David Stiffler. Others who will help in preparing a list of suitable candidates for the elections are Jack Heimforth, Jeanne MacIntosh, and Pat Kephart.
